Neighborhood updates:

- Replacement of Calvin Fletcher Historical Bureau
 - Our partners at the IN Historical Bureau are currently working on language to engrave on the new Calvin Fletcher Historical marker. They are sending an invoice to Sarah for payment. Once they have the language completed - they'd like to attend or share with the neighborhood association before engraving, which should occur in the coming months. Kären Haley with the Indy Cultural Trail has offered their partnership as they own the post onto which Calvin will sit. Kären said to keep her updated!
- Events Update from Sarah Savage: Picnic September 18
 - Picnic!! This Sunday!! Everything is pretty under control. Will need volunteers to help tear down and help Rick load and unload his tables.
 - Next Tuesday - Game Night at Dugout
 - Laura will be announcing our collab with Scare in the Square. More details to follow.
- Fletcher Place Committee Updates: FPICC, Land Use/Infrastructure
 - The FPICC met this week and we are moving forward with our fist Nyumba Kumi dinner in late Sept/early October. We'd like to thank our neighbors Katara McCarty and her partner Ryan for hosting at their home. Data, pictures and next steps to come. The committee is excited and looking forward to the movement and sharing experiences.
